I agree that it will be complete then.

I like the ballet idea but leave the money blank. Let the board approve the model and lets see what it will cost first. I may have a price by our meeting. Jerry has a company they deal with on base and he is going to give me the name of them to make contact with.

I have another meeting with the Air Park personnel again on Monday to go over the placement of the pedestal for the plaque and the model.

I'll let you know next week.

Sounds like a good plan to me and it really makes the Memorial area more "complete" for all of us "119ers". Plus, it will give the next board something to work on.

I can include a ballot topic (for the ballot I plan on sending prior to the Reunion this year, as well as hard-copy ballots for those who don't have e-mails) requesting a "go not-to-exceed $2000 (or whatever number seems realistic)" for the next board without them having to go back to the whole membership to get that going. Bill For your info I am working on the placement of an AC-119 K Model at the Aircraft on Hurlburt.

What we have come up with and looks like it will get approval will be to place the Model on the original pedestal of the 119G/K. The only thing is it cant not be over 16" wingspan , which makes it what height it can be. It would be mounted like they mount model aircraft on a stand. We put a small plaque with it and say what we think should be on it.

Does this make any since to you?

This can be done at the 2005 reunion don't you think.?

Thanks Gus
